

It was a beautiful summer day. Jasper and Julia played Frisbee in the park. Julia threw the Frisbee too far, and Jasper missed it. "Where is it?" asked Jasper. "Maybe it's in the bushes," said Julia.

ACT

Act out an activity you do in the park and ask your partners to guess what it is.

Art Math

Catalonia's Human Castles

In Spain's north-eastern corner, lies a region famous for its amazing human towers. These are called castells or "castles." During cultural festivals, special castle competitions are held.

As many as 70 teams try to build the strongest and highest human towers, by standing on each other's hands and shoulders. There is no age limit for competitors, and the human castles often reach up to 10 levels high!