

Jim and Jill go up a hill.
They visit their grandma on the farm.
There are cows in the barn,
horses by the windmill,
and some ducks in the river.

“Grandma, we have some gifts
for you,” say the children,
“A bag of flour and a bag of sugar.”
“That’s great! I have some ginger.
We can make cookies for dessert,” says Grandma.