

Countable and Uncountable Nouns

Countable Nouns

There is one box of cookies.

There are two boxes of cookies.

There aren't any cookies.

Uncountable Nouns

There is one can of soda.

There are two cans of soda.

There isn't any soda.

singular verb

A Read and match.

1. How many cartons of juice are there?

2. How many pieces of pizza are there?

3. How many bags of candy are there?

4. How many bowls of rice are there?

5. How many bottles of water are there?

There is one carton of juice.

There is one bag of candy.

There are three bottles of water.

There is one piece of pizza.

There are two bowls of rice.

B Write is, isn't, are, or aren't.

1. Q: Are there any cookies?

A: No, there aren't any cookies.

2. Q: _____ there any soda?

A: No, there _____ any soda.

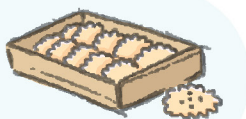

3. Q: _____ there any water?

A: Yes, there _____ two bottles of water.

4. Q: _____ there any crackers?

A: Yes, there _____ one box of crackers.

C Rewrite the sentences.

1. There's a box of cookies.

→ There are two boxes of cookies.

2. There's a can of soda.

→ _____ three _____.

3. There's a bag of peanuts.

→ _____ four _____.

4. There is a piece of cake.

→ _____ six _____.

Review 1 (Units 1–5)

A Write a little or a few.

There isn't much food in the refrigerator. There are only _____ apple juice, _____ rice, _____ bananas, and _____ bread. We're going to go shopping in _____ minutes and buy _____ things.

B Add s or es to the correct places.

We just came back from the supermarket.

We bought one box of cookie and two can of soda.

We also bought one carton of apple juice and three bottle of water. Look! Here are four bag of peanut and two box of cereal. Now we have a lot of food!

C Write many or much.

I baked a cake all by myself. It took me _____ hours.

I added in too _____ eggs, too _____ butter, and too _____ sugar. I didn't have _____ milk, so the cake is very hard. That's too bad!

D Write possessive or reflexive pronouns.

There are four bedrooms in our house.

This is my parents' bedroom, and this bed is _____.

My brother sleeps by _____, my sister sleeps by

_____, and I sleep by _____, too. We clean our rooms by _____. Do you clean _____ by _____, too?

